DESCRIPTION

In each Kommunikationsdesign program, there exists a unique set of terms and vocabulary that might not be widely covered in standard German language classes. This poses a challenge for non-native speakers who are beginning their studies in Germany. As part of the Weltoffene Hochschule project, our commitment lies in crafting a helpful tool in the form of a dictionary. Moreover, this resource will not only aid non-native speakers but also benefit native German speakers dealing with English terms. Despite the language challenge being beyond our immediate resolution, this initiative aims to foster a broader conversation about language use within the university.
